Officers' Reports

President - There are lots of fly-in breakfasts planned. This would be a good summer to try to get to some of these activities. Our own chapter picnic is June 12. (We had a beautiful day, although the crowd turned out to be a little light.)

- The B-1 bomber will be at Oshkosh this year. It is scheduled to arrive on Friday, and will stay several days. Also, volunteers are needed on weekends prior to the convention to help get everything ready.

Treasurer - All the current bills are paid, and with the extra contributions by some of our generous members, we still have a balance left.

Buy, Sell, Trade

For Sale: LO-150, Classic German Sailplane - instruments, radio, chute, enclosed trailer. $4,500 or offer. (mystery seller, no name included!)

For Sale: 2 quarts red brake fluid. Maurice Hobson

For Sale: Sound reduction materials. EAR Division of Sabot Corp. call 872-1111

Old Business

The "Aeroplane Gathering" at Mt. Comfort airport which we helped sponsor came off with a medium degree of success. We had several of our chapter members in attendance along with those of the chapters. Gate admission proceeds appeared to be not quite enough to completely recover our insurance costs. Informal discussions among members have already considered how to improve things for next year. We are still waiting for an official report, and return of our share of the proceeds.

New Business

One of our newest members, and president of EAA Chapter 689, David Morrow has been in touch with the office of Congressman Dan Burton. He is trying to help set up and coordinate a meeting of the Congressman and aviation enthusiasts. The idea is to help the Congressman understand our feelings better, and to help him represent us. July was targeted to try to schedule the meeting, but that was not able to be arranged. Tentatively, early August is a possibility.

Program

The program this month was courtesy of Art Nicola. The film he brought was a collection of different aviation disasters that were captured on camera. This kind of program can really help emphasize the need for safety consciousness.

Thanks, Art.

Next Meeting

Due to the Fourth of July holiday, our next meeting will be the following Monday, July 11, 1988, at the normal meeting place. See you there!

Respectfully submitted,

Secretary
